WELCOME TO POZAREVAC HISTORICAL ARCHIVES IN POZAREVAC - SERBIA

TIME TRAVEL WITH US – WE ARE THE KEEPERS OF HISTORY

YOU CAN

Get to know us:

Pozarevac Historical Archives, founded in 1948, is a cultural institution whose mission is to preserve documentary material and archival content as cultural heritage of significant public importance on the territory of the Branicevo County (the city of Pozarevac and the municipalities of Veliko Gradiste, Golubac, Malo Crnice, Zabari, Zagubica, Kucevo and Petrovac na Mlavi). The archival depots contain 630 permanent archival funds and collections, amounting to 5000 meters of archival material, dating from XVII to XX century. For seventy years the Archives have collected this silent but telling evidence of centuries past to preserve it for those who have not been born yet.

To discover:

Pozarevac Historical Archives keeps passports from 1791, Ottoman sultan's letter of patent, Prince Miloš's letters, documents of his abdication, but also his orders on the marriage ceremony rules from 1817; a letter in which a mother pleads with Toma Vucic Perisic to find employment for her son, the news of the Turkish bombardment of Belgrade in 1862 and a demand to evacuate all the Turks from Pozarevac written by the residents of Sutulova bara (a Pozarevac neighborhood); a medal issued by the Montenegrin Prince Nikola, testimonies of the First World War victims, arrest warrants for Tito and Draza, Kreiskommandatur orders from the World War Two, the notice of the first women's vote in 1945, testimonies of the rebuilding of the country after the liberation... Were they not to exist here, who knows what destiny would befall them: they may have been turned to dust or moldered in a family album long ago.

To see:

The collection of the old and rare books among which there is a manuscript from Manasija monastery from the late XVII century, an Almanach from 1777, a liturgical gospel from 1843, a Bill of Civil Law of the Kingdom of Serbia from 1844, a romantic composition by Milan Vidakovic – “A Love Scene”, sighed over by the young girls of 1864...

To experience:

You can read the church registers of births, baptisms, marriages and deaths on the territory of the Branicevo County in the Old Church Slavonic, the newspapers and periodicals from the early XX century, or explore the fashion through the centuries through the photographs, the growth of a city...

To learn:

The archives are the keepers of memories, they contain the proof of our existence, they are the most important institutions of a state identity and national identity. Everything is organized according to periods in the archives, but they have a timeless dimension.

Through the archival depots we travel through time which holds in place the documents testifying of the dictatorships and democracies, ideologies and political persecutions, victims and their executioners. They bear with pride their dates, stamps, signatures, testify of the medals, praises, decisions about titles and properties, life and death...
